

Let's Draw Home Alone

Hello everyone thought I would do up some a fun drawing exercise for you all to try, this one is Buddy for Elf, who doesn't love that movie, son a of nutcracker. Your task if you are keen to take it on is to print out this exercise pdf and draw Buddy via gridding. So, what you do is fill in each square one by one until you have a completed drawing.

Gridding is a fun and easy way to get perspective correct giving you more of a realistic drawing at the end. Hopefully you find it fun. I will do up some others soon like Buddy, The Grinch etc to suit all levels of technique and skill.
